

Indeck Energy To Give Away Free Wood Pellets

Ladysmith, Wis. – November 29, 2010 – Indeck Energy Services, Inc and its subsidiary Indeck Ladysmith, LLC are helping consumers and retailers by giving away one free ton of Indeck Energy Premium Grade Wood Pellets each Tuesday from December 7 through March 1.

Indeck Energy hopes to lessen the burden of home heating costs for some and also to provide those who have never used Indeck Energy Premium Wood Pellets an opportunity to potentially try them for free.

“We really feel that it is important, especially this season, to give consumers and retailers an opportunity to win part of their winter’s supply of wood pellets,” said Jeff Schultz, plant manager, Indeck Ladysmith BioFuel Center. “The economy is still rough and this is the right time to give back.”

Indeck Energy Premium Wood Pellets are manufactured from locally grown Wisconsin feedstock, have a high BTU value and low ash and moisture content.

Official entry information is available at select wood pellet retailers who carry Indeck Energy Premium Wood Pellets and also online at www.WinAFreeTonOfPellets.com.

Winners will be notified by a representative from Indeck Energy immediately following each week’s drawing.
